DBMS Management

DBMS manages data using schemas, tables, and relationships. It provides transaction control, indexing, and backup solutions. Common DBMS types: Relational (SQL-based) and NoSQL databases. It ensures ACID properties for consistency and reliability.